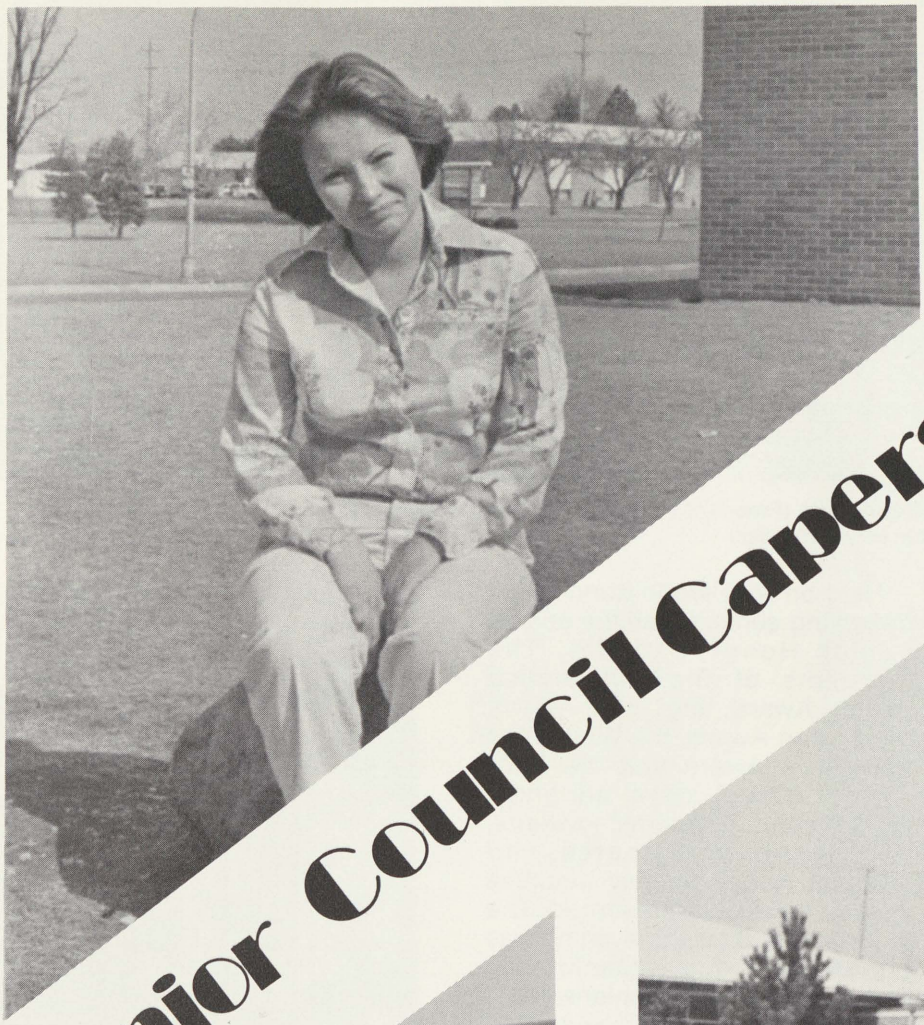
Margaret McQuillan, President



The Senior Class executed many fundraising projects with their main objective to earn enough money to admit the whole class into the annual Senior party. Selling different kinds of candy and sponsoring the annual 50's dance were just a couple of the ways they tried to raise the two thousand dollars needed.

To promote class participation, many activities were planned that the two-hundred and ninety-five seniors could take part in as a group. Some of the activities were a hayride, a trip to a pizza parlor and a ski trip. The options of going on the annual Senior trip to Cedar Point, was also open to all seniors.

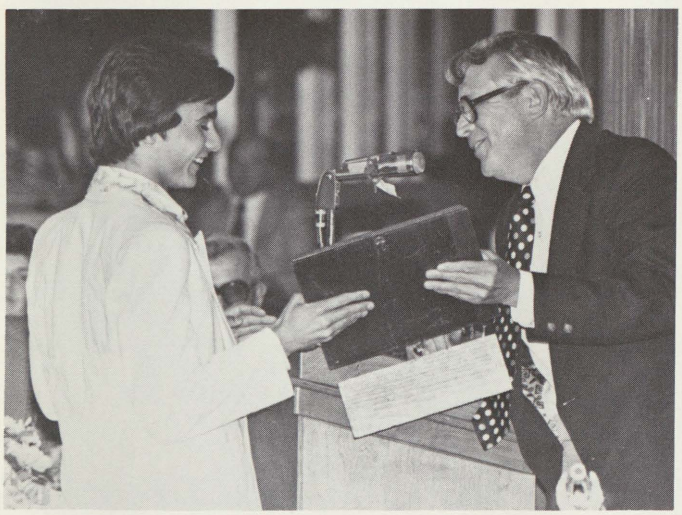
Margaret Leddy (Civitan Award, Science Award)

Editor Jill Schuette with photographer John Grunwell, received the Yearbook Staff Awards.

Held on May 4th in honor of all deserving seniors was the annual Senior Honor Banquet. The recipients of the Outstanding Senior Award, the DAR Award, the Civitan Award, the White Pine Principal's Award and the Principal's Award were all given recognition. Academic awards, honor roll certificates and National Honor Society inductee awards were also presented. The entertainment for the evening was provided by Douglas MacArthur's jazz band, the Smithtonians. Principal, Oscar Huyghe, and Blue and White Club President, B.J. Humphreys, shared the master of ceremony role.

Mr. Stahl presents an honor roll certificate to Paul Tincknell.



Mr. Huyghe presents the Principal's Award to Steve Borello.

National Honor Society President, Jill Barry, presents an inductee certificate to Lauri Davenport.

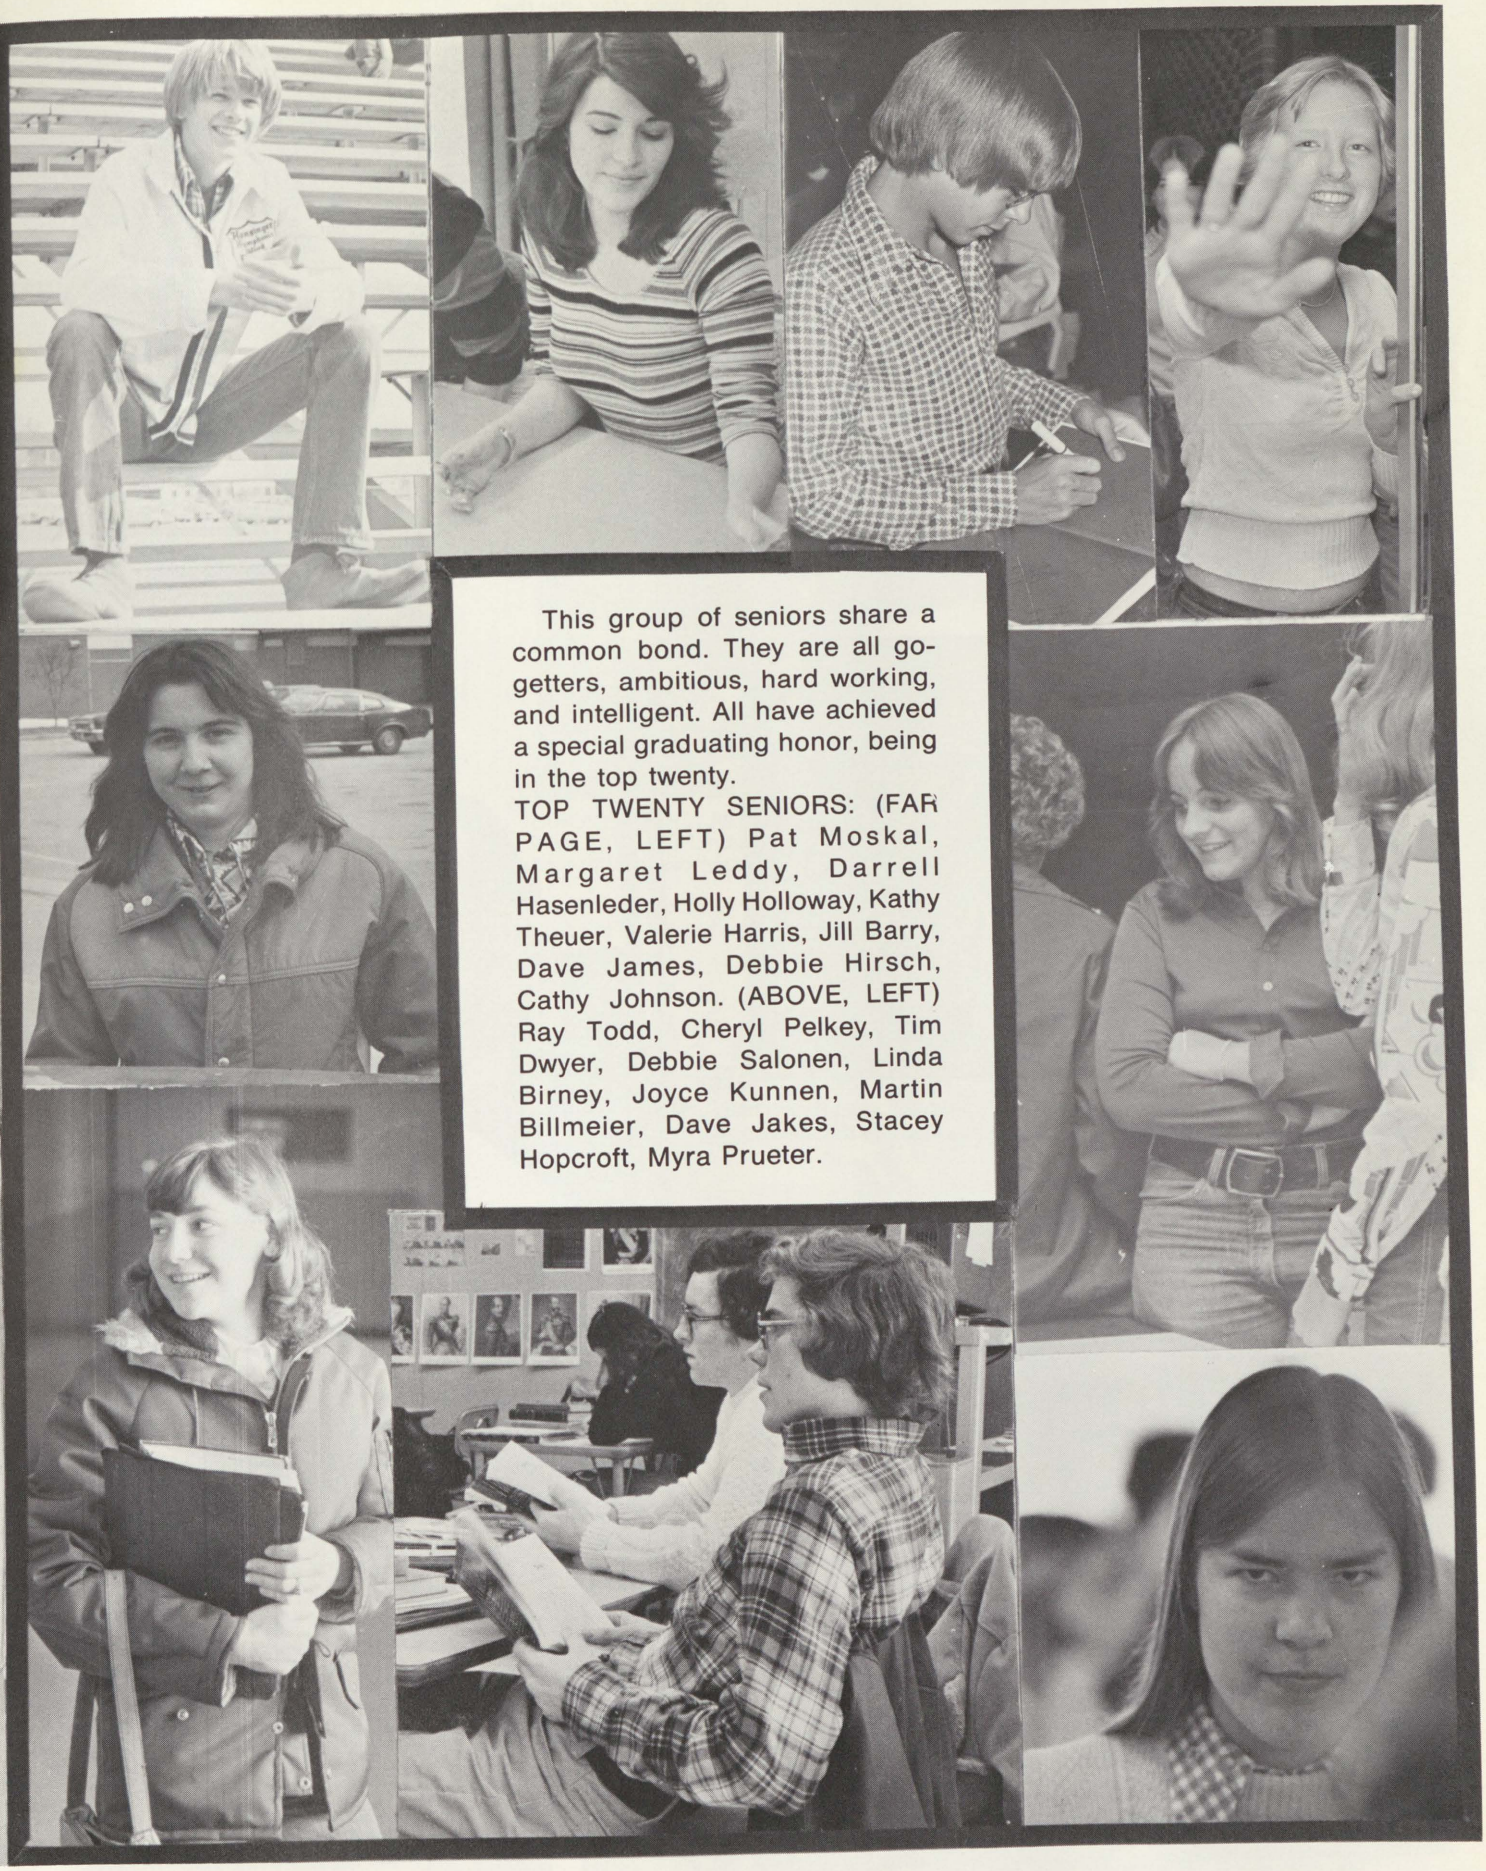
TOP



This group of seniors share a common bond. They are all go-getters, ambitious, hard working, and intelligent. All have achieved a special graduating honor, being in the top twenty.

TOP TWENTY SENIORS: (FAR PAGE, LEFT) Pat Moskal, Margaret Leddy, Darrell Hasenleder, Holly Holloway, Kathy Theuer, Valerie Harris, Jill Barry, Dave James, Debbie Hirsch, Cathy Johnson. (ABOVE, LEFT) Ray Todd, Cheryl Pelkey, Tim Dwyer, Debbie Salonen, Linda Birney, Joyce Kunnen, Martin Billmeier, Dave Jakes, Stacey Hopcroft, Myra Prueter.

The midway was crowded with people trying their luck. (BELOW) The famous Corkscrew is world-renowned, and greatly liked by the seniors.

Thrills, chills, and excitement are many on The Corkscrew.

The Corkscrew was the unanimous favorite of the many roller coasters, which included The Blue Streak, The Witch's Wheel, and Shoot the Rapids. The Big Wheel is always an attraction, along with the various cable lifts and villages. The seniors frequently visited the many fast-food stops, and ice cream and saltwater taffy wagons. The always-present lines stretched practically back to Saginaw, but discouraged none. The bright warm sun and fair skies made for perfect weather. Three busses, filled with happy, tired seniors, came back home, with almost everyone a little sunburned.

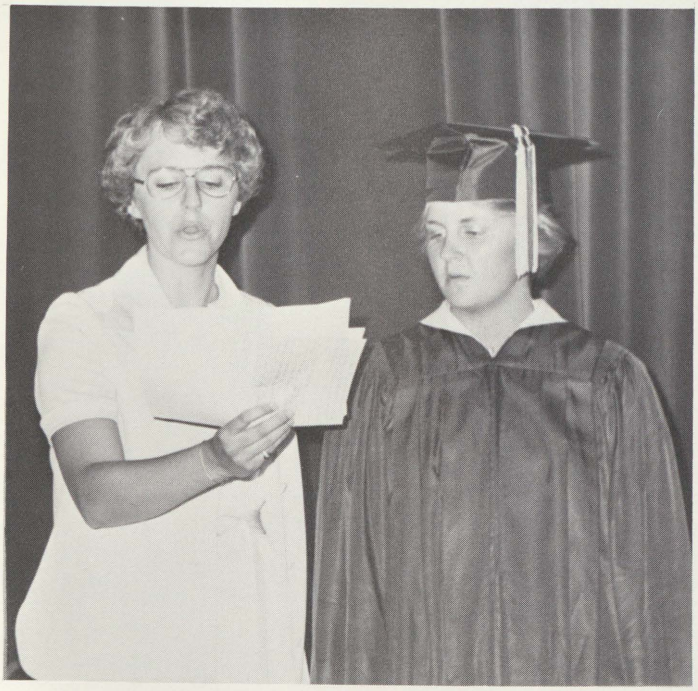
Pastor Gantz addresses the congregation of seniors and parents.

Sharon Gantz also had a part in the program.

The theme of the 1977 Baccalaureate service was "Let the Ropes of the Past Ring the Bells of the Future." Heading the committee were Sharon Gantz and Michelle Curry. Pastor Richard Gantz spoke on "Past", while the Reverend Carol Johns' message was on "Future". Ann Mellor presented a vocal solo, "You'll Never Walk Alone", and was also joined by Linda Birney and Cheryl Pelkey to sing "Turn, Turn, Turn". Accompanist was alumnus Chris Cleveland.



Reverend Johns and Michelle Curry read together.

Commencement speeches were taken from contemporary songs, with senior Margaret McQuillan expressing thoughts on "You've Got a Friend". Margaret was followed by Eric Villegas, who proclaimed "I've Got a Name", Kathy O'Brien with "Father and Son", and Stephen Borrello, who closed with "Sitting". Principal Huyghe and Superintendent McConnell addressed the class, with Ivy Steinmetz and Peggy Makrianis calling the roll.

The Candlelite Inn was the scene of the 1977 Senior Party. Ceyx set the mood of the party with the overall theme of "Rock and Roll All Night!", which was precisely what the Seniors did. The bar was offered for all those 18-years or older, and was open until 2:00 a.m. There was much dancing and the people were reluctant to leave the dance floor. Hot dogs and pop were offered for all to eat. The party broke up a little after 3:00 a.m., and most went to other parties or breakfasts.

Generals will command

The varsity gridiron team was dominated by senior players.

Although the team didn't meet last year's Class B State Runners Up title, they did accomplish something which hasn't been experienced at MacArthur in several years. Under the leadership of co-captains Al Brandi and Kurt Quiroz, the 'mighty blue machine' defeated their arch rivals, the Commanders of Eisenhower by a score of 32-16.

Coach Skillman and running back Sam McGowan discuss game plans from the sidelines.

Center Chris O'Keefe and the offensive line set their stance for the hike.

The JV team had a outstanding season with an impressive 7-1 record. According to Coach Coffey the 14-8 win over Mt. Pleasant was the team's best game. Some of the outstanding players were quarterback Ven Johnson, backs, Mike Short, Scott Primack, and Fred Richter. Most improved player of the squad was Jim Liebinger. When asked about how the team would be next year as the varsity squad, Coach Coffey said, "They have the potential to be the best varsity team ever. They were the best and easiest team to work with."

The freshmen team had a season record of four wins and four loses. Coached by Mr. Coffron and Mr. Gerard, the team had impressive wins, two of which were shut-outs.

CROSS COUNTRY

The new co-ed Cross Country team, consisting of heavy endurance runners, directed by Coach Lyle McAuley, completed another season, led by award-winning seniors Clay Price and Mary Ann Opalewski. Consistant runners were Junior Matt Strzyinski and sophomore Thad Beisel, who kept the team strong, along with freshman John Cammin. Clay was the top finisher in the WPC meet, and he won the Eisenhower and Delta Invitational tournaments. Also, Mary Ann placed first in a State women's tournament.

Thad Beisel and Matt Strzyinski start the long trek.

Seeming very relaxed, Coach Quinn watches over his girls.

The girls' tennis team concluded the 1976 season with a tough finish. The varsity team came in second place in the regionals, only one point away from Fenton who captured first. In the state meet the General girls took eighth place. The team finished second to rival Eisenhower in the WPC.

The all conference team in tennis included Melanie Thompson, Penny Jones, Lois Bach, Sandy Spangler, Cheryl Short, Betsy Schirmer. The number two doubles champs along with most valuable players were Cheryl Short and Lois Bach.

The JV girls tennis coach was Mike London. They finished their season with a 4-4 record. Most improved and number 1 singles was Mary Jo Schaeff.

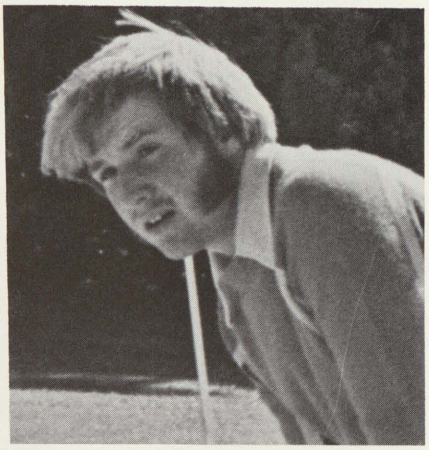
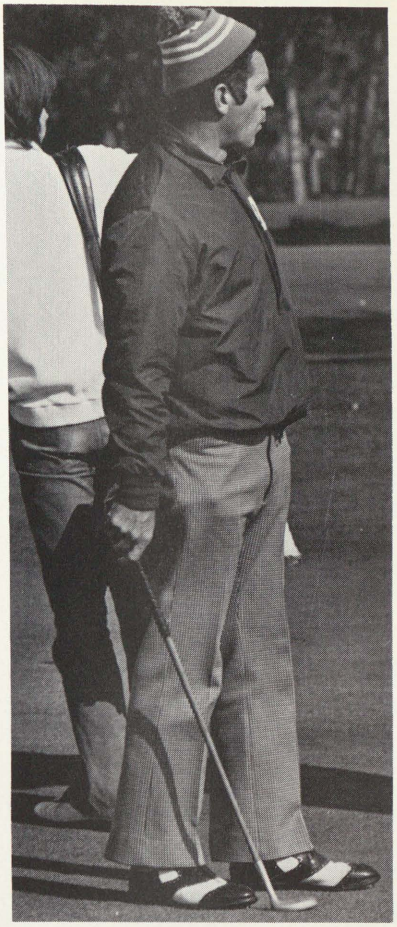
The Varsity Golf team completed another fine season with 14 wins and 4 losses. The boys also won the White Pine conference title for the 6th time in the team's history. Hill Herrick was the team's number one man and he also made the all conference team. Coach Ron Stelter feels that the boys worked well together to make a good team.

Our JV team, coached by Bill Stelter made a mark with 2 wins and 10 losses. Good promises for next year's varsity team include Chris Loberg, Steve Smith and Blake Chartrau.



Hill Herrick surveys the course with a critical eye.



"Where'd the ball go?" wonders Coach Ron Stelter.

The Generals girls swimmers pulled off a top season, thanks to the dedication of their new coach Kirk Nissley. With only their first meet loss to Midland, the girls finished this year undefeated. It was the first time in the history of the girls swim team that they have ever placed in the state meet, coming in fourth place.

Ten girls qualified for the state meet with top winners Karen Crimmins, Susanne Zeros, Bev Gleffe, Sue Johnson, and Doreen Collier.

Most valuable swimmer on the girls team was Karen Crimmins, who was chosen by her teammates.

Ven Johnson makes a fast break to elude the opponent, Craig Tucker, from Eisenhower.

Tom Howe, Ven Johnson, Olof Sundqvist and Mark Kaligian agree on team strategy.

Coach Kaligian's varsity cagers not only suffered a loosing season, they suffered the loss of support. The stands were sparsely filled at most of the court encounters. And on several occasions, as MacArthur served as host team, the visitors outnumbered the home fans. But team morale endured. Under the strict, well disciplined coaching methods of Mr. Peter Kaligian, the practices were sometimes long and always a hard workout. In spite of their losses, the team members stuck together to proudly represent our school.

Up for the shot is junior, Joe Carney.

CAGERS CRUISE

With the drive and determination needed on the basketball court, the JV team put it together to win seven of their games, which left them with the best junior varsity record in the last few years here at MacArthur. The team was coached and guided by Mr. Tim Braun.

The freshman "A" team, coached by newcomer Mr. Stone, attained one of the best win-loss records for a MacArthur basketball team in quite a few years. The young players cruised to a 12-7 record, which included an overtime win against John Glenn.

Another newcomer, Mr. Shay, guided his young Freshman "B" team to a good season, also. These boys worked all season to end with seven in the win column.

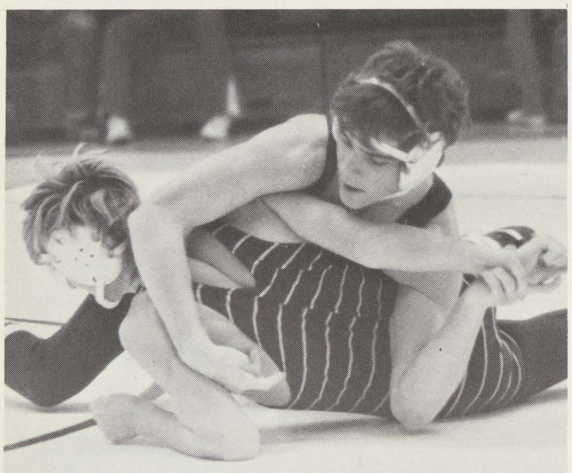
GRAPPLERS



Jeff Schneider goes for the pin.

The Wrestling Generals closed out the 76-77 season with 10 wins and 11 loses. This was the most successful season in the past few years. Third place in the White Pine Conference, and seventh in the County Tournament were the highlights of the year. Barry Gronski was the outstanding individual wrestler as he recorded 28 wins and no losses. He also defended his county championship. Rick Howard, Mark O'Dell, Mike Jeffords, and Britt Nolan also closed out successful seasons.

Paul Churchill hams it up after a MacArthur victory.

The Hockey team, now in its third season at MacArthur completed the season with 11 wins and 10 losses. The Icers fair season had several disadvantages. They played all of their games at the Civic Center, unfortunately having no choice of time slots for their games and practices. Some games took place early in the morning or late at night. This, also, made it hard on the fans. However, all in all, the Generals had a successful season.

Keep on 'trackin'

The 1977 Boys' Track team overcame its lack of seniors with a very strong cast of underclassmen. Of the few seniors on the squad, two are exchange students: Olaf Sunqvist from Sweden, and Robert Depuis from Belgium. Another outstanding senior was Clay Price, who was undefeated during dual meets, and went on to take first place regionals in the two mile. Senior Dave James had an outstanding year in the long jump event, while John White and Jim Slaggert helped round out the field.

JV coach Rob Glickman said that his team "has really improved. They started slowly, but came on strong the last half of the season."

Janet Barry shows her catching ability to some curious spectators.

The 1977 girls' varsity and JV softball teams finished another season in late May. The varsity team's record was 4 wins and 15 losses, while the JV team's season held 8 wins and 5 losses. The girls practiced and played hard and enjoyed the season thoroughly. The varsity team's coach was Mr. Bill Matson and the JV team was coached by Janice "Swanie" Swanson. The team members seemed to think that both coaches did a good job overall and were well liked by the girls.

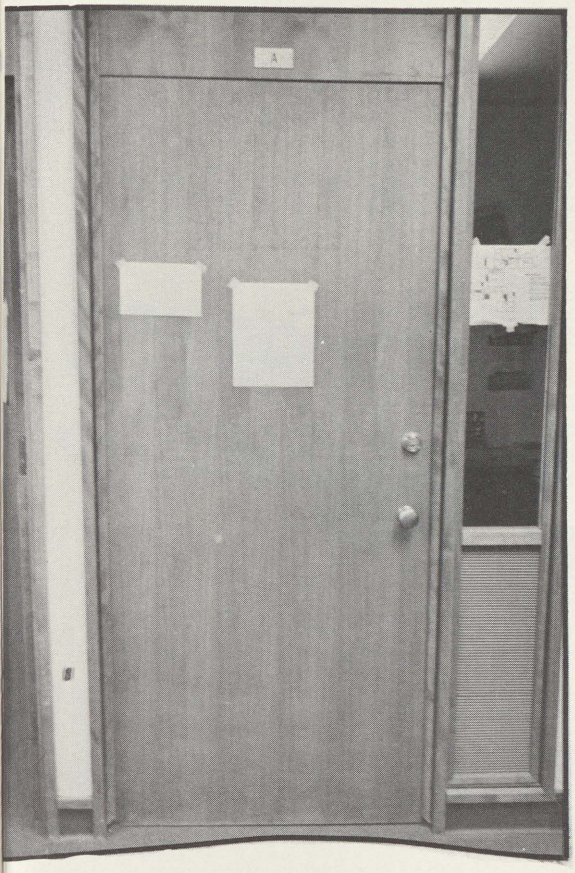
COMMUNITY

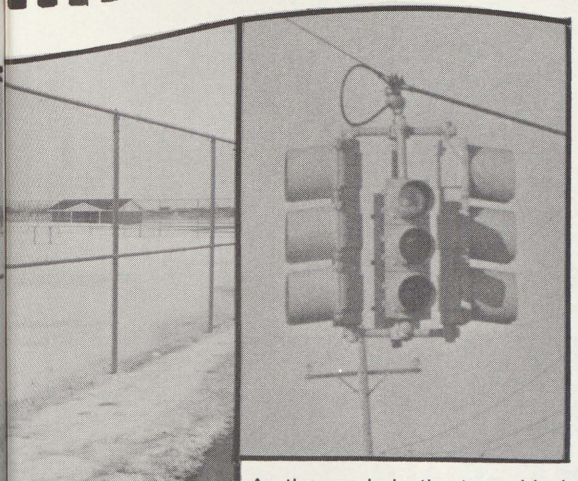
Saginaw Township recently built a new and larger library. (RIGHT) The new tennis courts will become much more populated when warm weather strikes.

MacArthur's counselors must teach classes now, so their doors are not always open to students.



Much snow and cold were minor annoyances that Township residents had to endure.

NEWSREEL



As the roads in the township become more heavily traveled, many stop signs are being replaced by traffic lights.

Saginaw Township is presently experiencing prosperity and poverty. The community is growing steadily with new businesses and homes constantly being built. Public facilities in the township are increasing in number and transportation systems are being improved.

Yet there is a dim side to this wealth. Township schools are having trouble meeting their budgets due to a millage defeat in August, 1976. Schools were forced to make cuts in staff, supplies and in needed repairs. However, they have adjusted to the situation and schools have been running smoothly.

The township received much snow in the winter, making roads slippery and students happy, as snow closings were numerous.

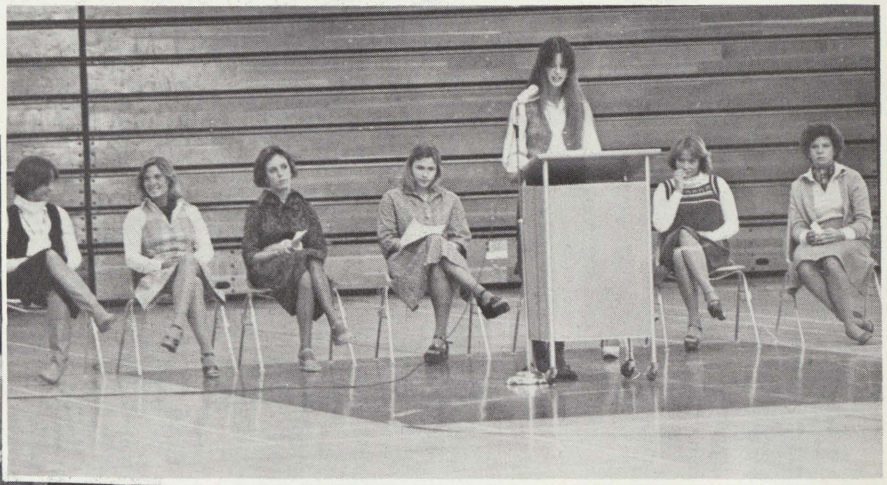
"Got spirit? Let's hear it!"

The events of the week are captured in the collage below.

Do MacArthur students have school spirit? The answer was a resounding yes the week of October 11th, better known as Spirit Week. The week began with blue and white day on Monday, when all students sported the school colors. Also on Monday was the annual junior-senior powderpuff football game, won by the senior girls. Very few bare heads were present on Tuesday as it was Hat Day. On Wednesday all classes painted signs to promote class spirit. In the evening, students hopped aboard their three-wheelers for the trike race. Thursday was Hush Button Day. The announcement of the homecoming queen to the student body took place at Thursday's crowning assembly.

The Chris's have it! Capturing the win at the trike race was Chris "Kiss" Sanchez while hat day's victor was Chris Meisel.



The homecoming finalists listen to Ann McConnel's "Long and Winding Road" speech.

Diane Hefner and her escort Steve Socha leave the gym after the crowning assembly.

Newly announced Queen Camille Cleveland and her mother show their emotion.

The events of Spirit Week came to a climax on Friday. Homecoming struck with full force. First came the football game where a fired up MacArthur squad defeated the Bridgeport team by a score of 29 to 7. During halftime, instead of the usual parade, each class displayed their floats to a receptive crowd. The hard work which the Junior class put into their float paid off, as they won first place in the competition. After the procession, the seven members of the 1976 Homecoming Court were escorted to the center of the field by their fathers. While the MacArthur marching band performed, Queen Camille Cleveland was crowned by last year's Queen, Nancy Mikesell. Later that evening, couples, both students and alumni, danced to the super sounds of "Inner Visions". The dance was held in the MacArthur Kivateria which was decorated to the theme of "The Long and Winding Road".

Kevin Pesta and Linda Birney dance to the sounds of "Inner Visions".

Queen Camille and Attendant Susie McLeod show their feelings.

All four cheerleading squads were very busy doing various activities to earn money and to promote school participation and spirit. Beginning their hard work early in the summer, the Varsity and JV squads attended cheerleading camp at Ferris State College.

They were runners-up for the over-all championship at the camp.

A new specialty squad was introduced to promote spirit as minor sport activities. They also attended camp.

The advisor behind them all was Miss Busaid.

BIONIC BAND

In the wake of the Six Million Dollar Man and the Bionic Woman, the DM Band was rebuilt during the early fall, and marched its way to a season of precision and excellence, in the true style of Bionic Engineering. Led by Drum Majors Blair Smith and David Zessin, the Bionic Band was an example of split-second timing, exhibited well during the DM-Ike football game. The flags and majorettes added an extra flair to the already precise Marching Band. After season, they divided up into other precision groups. The Concert and 5th Hour Bands had their Christmas Concert December 9th, and the Jazz Band made a Christmas appearance at the Masonic Temple. The Pep Band kept the basketball spectators entertained with their version of "The Bionic Band", dedicated to the separate groups, that as a whole, make up the DM Bionic Band.

"Who wrote this anyway?" remarks Mrs. Furgason

The 1977 Newspaper staff had many enterprising youths this year. At the Michigan Interscholastic Press Associations they won 11 awards. This years staff consisted mostly of seniors. Steve Borrello and Eric Mey were the Editors in Chief, Sarah Anspach was News Editor, Bob Hills was Sports Editor, Debbie Whitman was Feature Editor, Mark Kaligian, Sports Editor, and Dana Seidel, Business Manager.

The staff produced 16 issues this year, including a special Christmas Edition, and an April Fools Edition. "Prange's predictions" added a personal touch to the paper, and many other articles contributed to the paper's success.

Becky Miller takes time out to listen to a joke.

"Is the manager around the corner?" ask Kevin Rooker and Laura Hill.

Advisor, Mr. Meyer, works the clean up detail at the movies.

The Itella staff developed the '77 yearbook theme of 'going to the movies,' and attempted to relate each section of the book to this idea. With the creative direction of Editor Jill Schuette and photography of Head photographer John Grunwell, staff members completed five deadlines. Veteran staff members, Tim Reid, Lisa Austin, Kevin Rooker and Leslie Foulds, with new members, Debbie Hirsch, Michelle Curry, Kerry Carlisle, Laura Hill, Erin Kennedy, Cathy Johnson and Tom Ording sold 2500 dollars in advertising and worked many an hour on yearbook deadlines.

The limelight holds a certain attraction to many aspiring young singers who belong to school choirs, hoping that their big break will come and their dreams of being on Broadway will come true. The Concert Choir made a tribute to some of the great hit shows that have appeared on Broadway, and presented portions of "Oklahoma!", "Camelot", and "The Sound of Music" in March at Delta College. Besides this presentation, the choirs, Triple Trio, and other choral groups performed at their annual Winter Concert, went to Solo and Ensemble, and made numerous community appearances.

The Triple Trio made one of their many performances at the Junior Honor Banquet.

"Cheaper by the Dozen," under the direction Ms. Joy Williams, was presented by the MacArthur Drama Club for its annual production. The light hearted drama is the true story of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gilbreth and their twelve children. Acting highlights included Chuck Duclos' portrayal of Mr. Gilbreth and Ann Mellor's portrayal of Miss Brill. A special program was designed by Bruce Cohen.

Socks were rolled down and girl's hair was bobbed up. Guy's hair was greased back and "shades" brought forth. Skirts were longer and t-shirts sleeves shorter. It was the Fabulous 50's.

On February 25th, members of the senior class relived the fashions of the fifties during the school day. An assembly was held to honor the senior winter sports participants and the varsity pom pon squad performed a routine to the popular song of the fifties, "Barbara Ann".

That night the entire school was invited to a flashback of the fifties at a dance held in the Kiva, with rockin' sounds provided by The Slick City Rockers.

The staff began meeting in November and the deadline for poetry, photography, and short stories was March 1st. All works were reviewed by the staff before being published in Ventus.

The Debate team participated in five meets during the season. The issue dealt with by the team was "Should the US adopt a new Penal System?" The team won a third place trophy in their league.

This year's Spring Fever Week was a success thanks to the hard efforts of the Student Union. Each day held something new and different. Monday a rock concert by Ceyx was held after school in the auditorium, and Tuesday found students competing for the title of "Most Talented" or "Craziest" in DM's first Gong Show. Wednesday the pace slowed somewhat for Overall Day, but things picked up again on Thursday when a Latin Club sponsored slave auction was held by the pond. Both students and teachers volunteered themselves as slaves to raise money for the Cancer Society. Friday marked the end of Spring Fever Week with a pie eating contest in the gym with the Sophs winning and the crowning of Andy Dey as MacArthur's third official General.

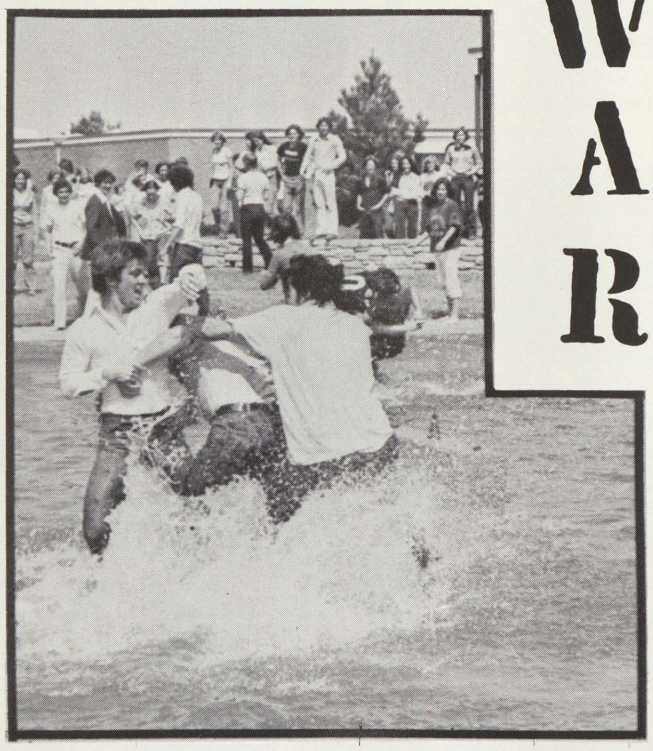
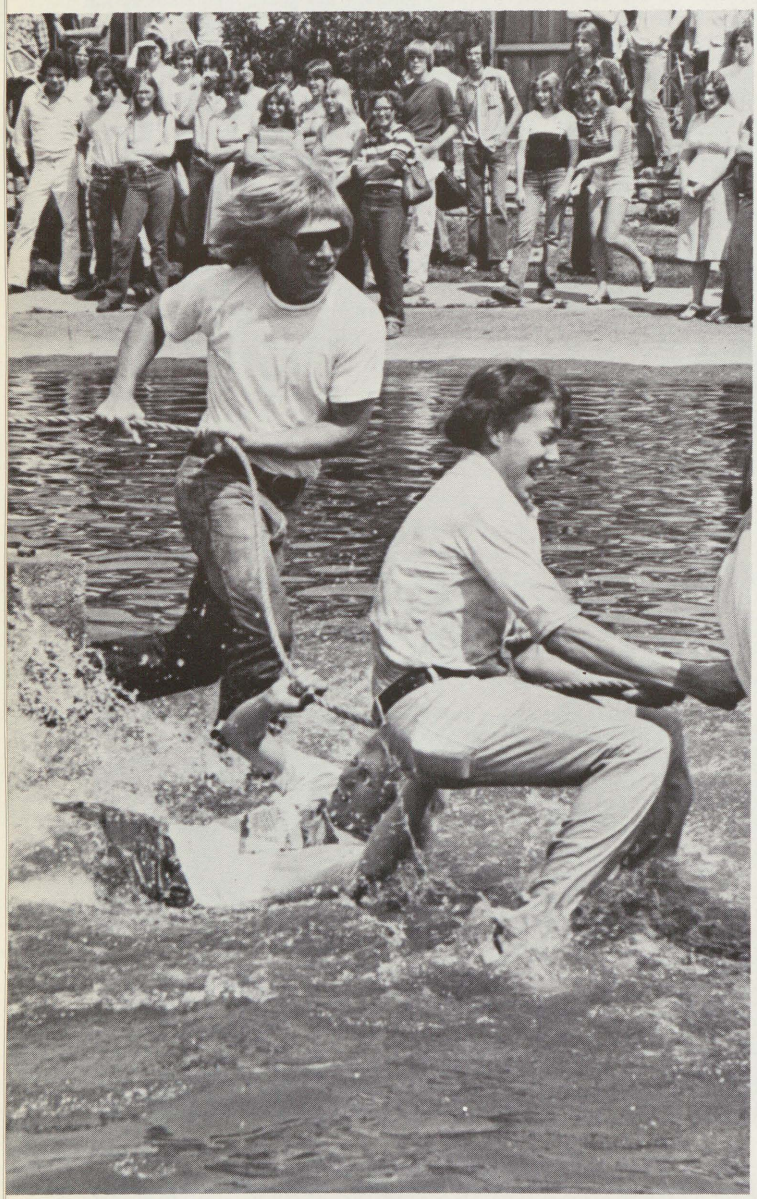
TUG-OF-WAR

Although threatened by extreme drought, the annual Tug-of-War was a success, with the assistance of the Saginaw Township Water Department, who only hours before the appointed time filled the pond with much needed water. After many false starts, the senior boys pulled through with an exciting victory. The junior girls made up for their boys and easily beat the senior girls. All of this action was followed up by the usual splashing and dunking, leaving 'half' the students wet and dripping.

Tom Leppien, Joe Provenzano, and Rick Bishop strain hard for the Juniors.

The Mad Splashing begins!





Dave Rank, Don Wruck, and Mike Garske fail to keep the rope taut.

The Juniors abandon their sinking ship.

Heave Ho! The Senior Crew led by Bob Mayer, Craig Prange, Barry Gronski, and Kevin Dole, secure a winning hold that cinched the battle.

Victory is sweet for the Senior champions, as they lunge to douse the fleeing Juniors.

'Reflections' at Delta

Tom Slivinski and his date are content watching other couples dance.

Julia Roberts and John Theuer find a quiet spot to themselves—well at least they thought it was!

For the first time the junior-senior prom was not at Douglas MacArthur. It took place at Delta College. The reason for this change was that after a vote of juniors and seniors was taken, it was found that many people would be more comfortable somewhere other than the Kiva.

The theme was 'Reflections' and posters and candles were special decorations that highlighted the event. The band, "Fantasia," provided many types of music to suit all moods. The chairman of prom was Andi Wilbur, Karen Harpfer was in charge of the decorations and the publicity chairman was Katy Stroebel.

Bill Wilhelm, Michelle Curry, Al Brandi and his date Jill Hruby talk in the court yard to get away from the crowd.

Mark Sengele and his date catch a breath of fresh air.

Both MacArthur and Eisenhower girls presented three evenings of entertainment to various types of music in the annual Sea Nymphs show. Routines were performed from present movie hits such as "Jaws" and "Brian's Song," to favorites of the past like "Singing in the Rain" and "Misty". Susie McLeod performed the traditional Senior solo routine.

The show was presented on May 5,6,7 at the Eisenhower pool. The sponsors of the club were Mrs. Marcia Lacker, Mrs. Marge Oliver and Mrs. Joan Fleener. The master of ceremonies for all three shows was Eric Villegas.

SU

Student Union led by president Steve Borrello was up and on the move this past year. SU accomplished several projects this year. They handled Homecoming activities, Valentine Carnation Day and Spring Fever Week.

The activities held during Spring Fever Week were a gong show and a Blue Grass band preformance on the hill.

The members of SU had a student exchange day with Midland Dow High School.

The students also held a very successful blood drive, headed by Margaret Leddy, for the Saginaw Blood Bank.

Members also learned parliamentary procedures from Roberts Rules of Order. Mr. Huyghe was advisor to the class.

Members of the NHS Chapter, lead by President Jill Barry, Vice President Mark Kaligian, Secretary Margaret Leddy, and Treasurer Cathy Johnson, were involved in service and social projects associated with eating, thinking, and being merry! They began the year with a Halloween party for K-2 elementary children on Halloween night. In November they held the traditional Thanksgiving can and turkey drive that fed 15 area needy families. For scholarship fund raising and expenses, they worked the consessions during the bingo games, held a car wash, and organized the annual pancake supper. During March 67 sophomores and juniors were inducted at the Honor Banquets. Socially the group went on two canoe trips down the AuSable River and held a treasure hunt.

Juniors come on strong

The Juniors with 311 students have proved to be a very prosperous class in terms of fund raising.

Also, with bake sales and candy sales, the Juniors put on a rummage sale. It brought them a profit of $328.

Their Homecoming float, organized by Chris Mikesell, brought the class of '78' a first place.

Competition play director for the Junior class also had much to smile about after the Junior play, "Dinner for Two," was voted best play.

Three hundred fifty-nine students made up the sophomore class. Many of the projects set up by the class were successful, except to the dismay of float chairman Heidi Hug and the sophomore class, their Homecoming float broke down and was pulled out of the competition.

Many hours went into the class competition play. Best supporting actress went to sophomore Mary Trapp.

Their biggest money making projects were their candy sales which brought them a profit of $200 and bake sales.

ONE DOWN THREE TO GO

The class of 1980 is the largest of the four classes with 405 students. Starting from scratch, the Freshmen have had only a few money making projects, mostly bake sales.

During Homecoming festivities, the Freshmen did get their class float out on the field. Their float chairman was Kathy Gross, and the float took third place in the contest.

Keith Cameron was the director of the class competion play, "Foxy Grandma."

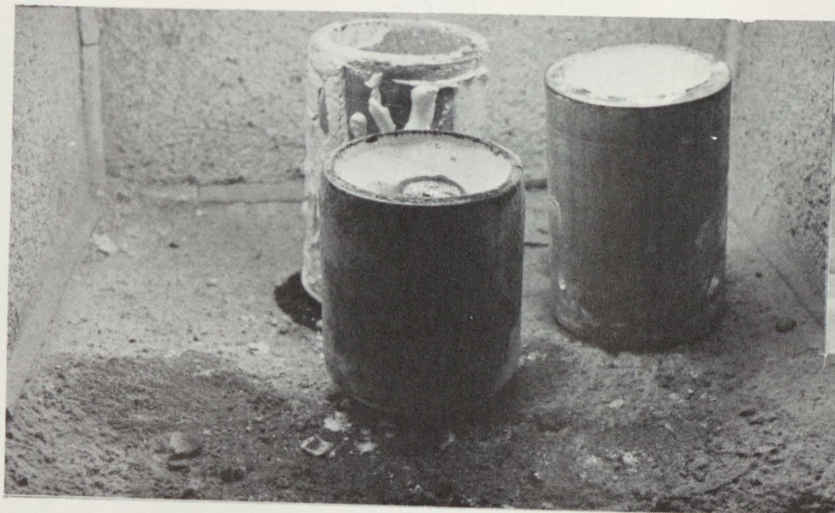
This view of Mackinac Bridge was painted by Carol Heath.

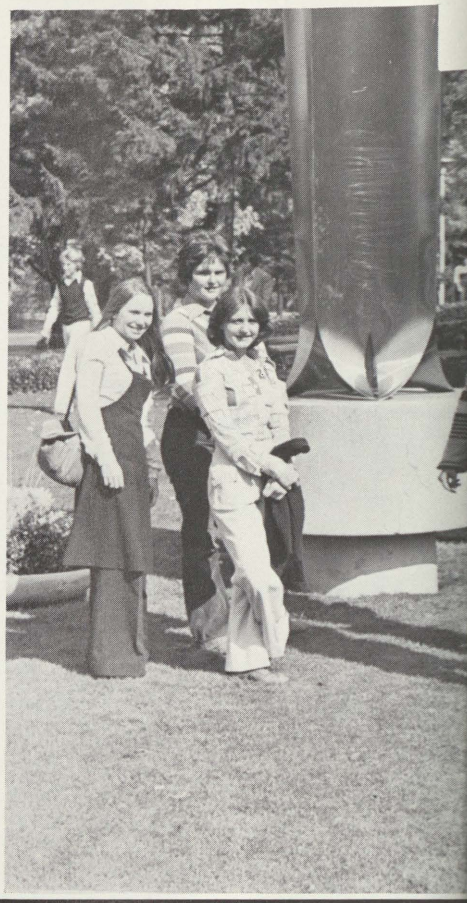
Even though this is a school showing, it is not unlike a sidewalk exhibition. The walls of the art-room are made up of windows that let the passerby view the numerous works of the room. Different art figures are presented to the public regularly and the artists can be seen at work, like a public art show. Mr. Copp directs the students in the various forms of art, and guides the young artists in their first expression of a masterpiece. A sample of these works are also displayed during "Spring Fever" week in the auditorium.

Jeff Rooker adds a stroke for shading.

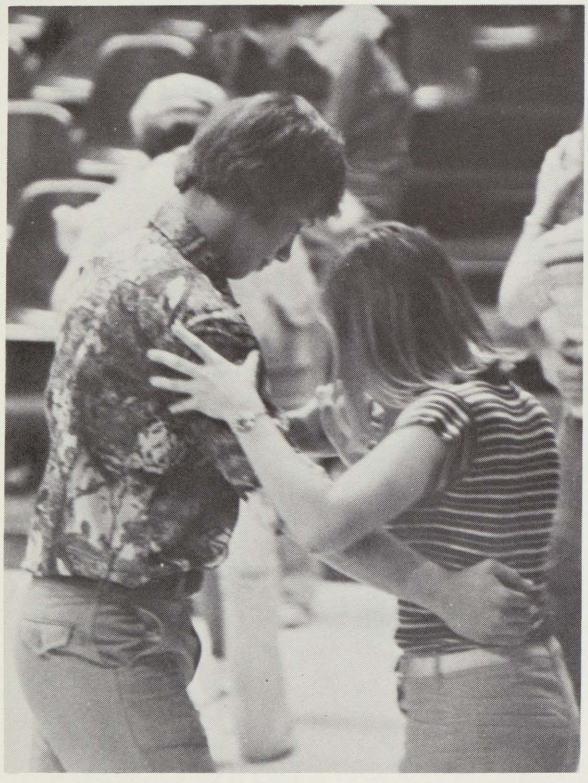


Ring molds are heated in the kiln. (BELOW) Mr. Copp instructs Allan McMall in the correct stroke for his sketch.

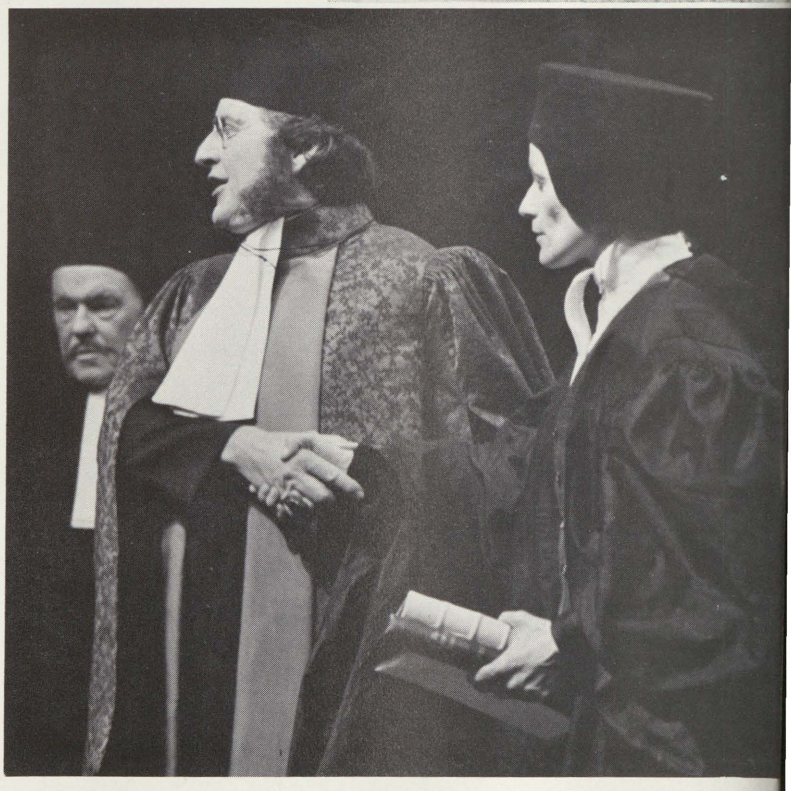
Similar to rehearsing stage dancers, Ms. Williams' U. S. Lit. class runs through another routine.



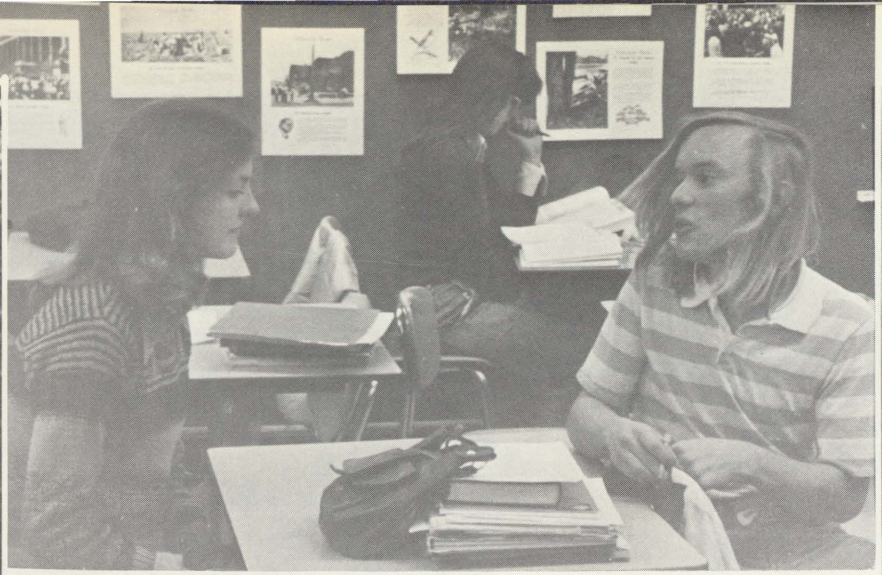
Ye Olde English



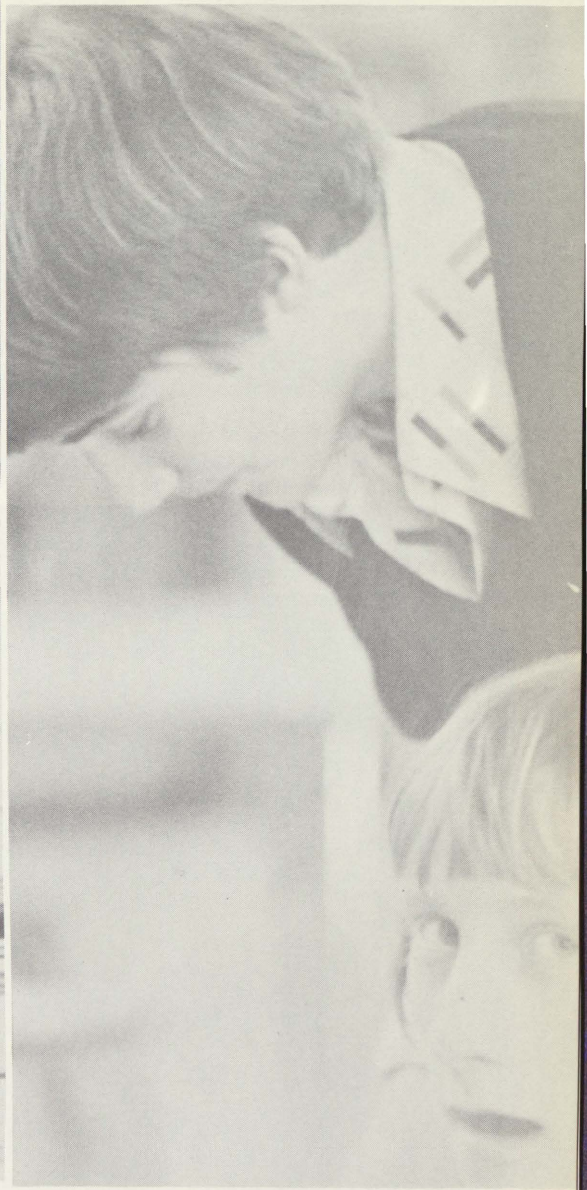
Howard Clark and Vicki Harris gingerly tread the measures.



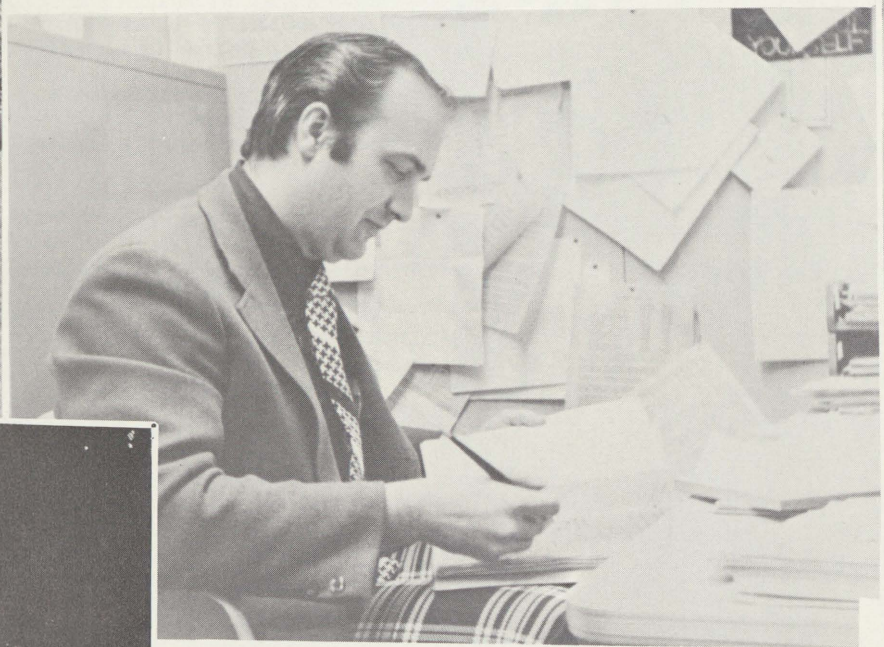
"The Merchant of Venice" was presented as a highlight of the Stratford trip in a theater modeled after The Globe.



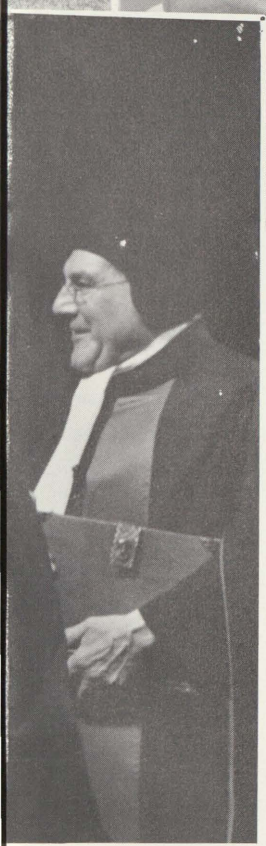
Gallant Bill Koucky speaks flirtingly to fair damsel Mary Krafft.



Ven Johnson tries to assist Jim Haeger with Ms. Williams' assignment.



Due to the millage defeat, counselors taught classes; here Mr. Petryna corrects his English papers.



Kurt Schnell takes a short break during his Russian Lit Class.

The skills of "Ye Olde English" were being applied in curious ways, as in the adventures of Ms. Williams' U.S. Literature classes as they experienced formal dancing in the auditorium. Ms. Williams instructed them in ballet, waltz, and foxtrot. The annual Stratford, Ontario trip included the Shakespearean play, "The Merchant of Venice," which gave the students exposure to one of Shakespeare's comedies. Another unique aspect of the English department was Mr. Meyer's English Composition class that consisted mostly of college-bound seniors who caught up on the grammar and sentence structure they seemed to have forgotten for the past four years.

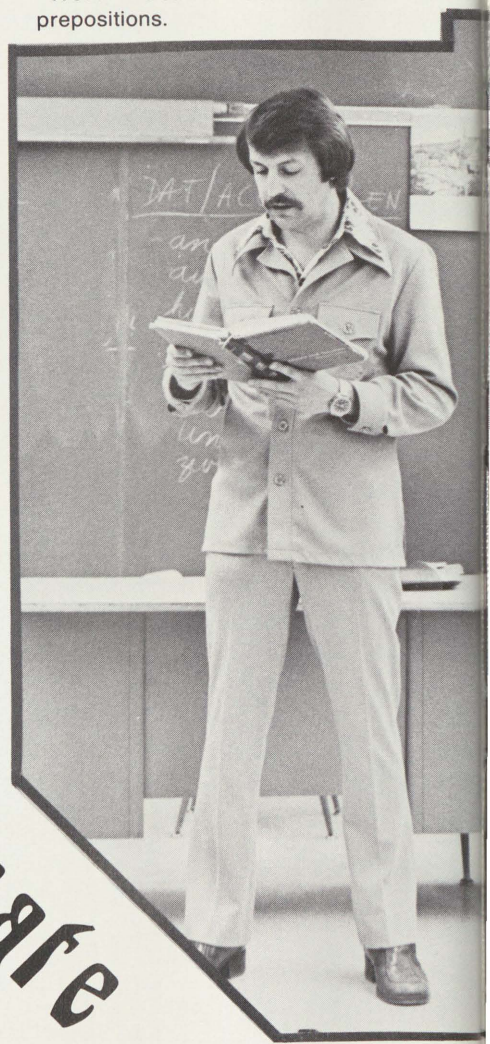
Memorize and Conjugate

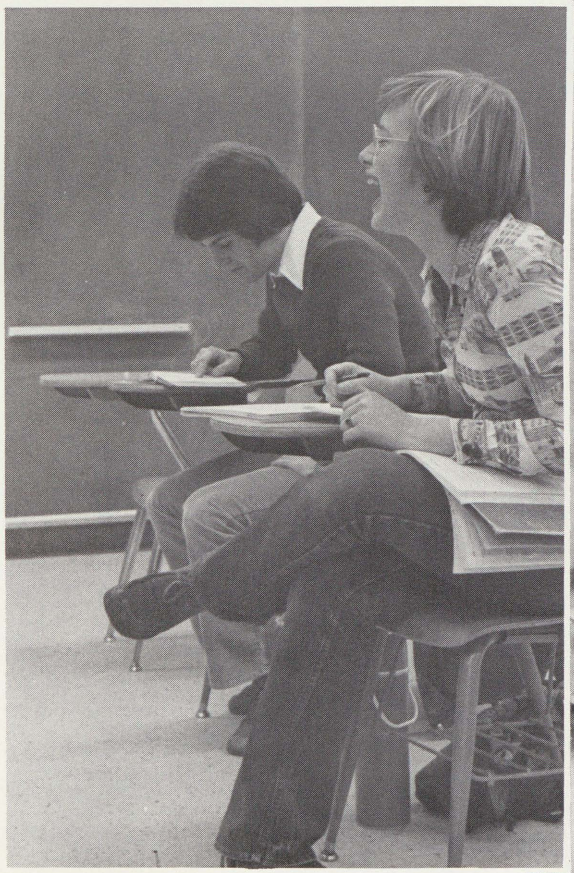
Struggling along with verb forms, cases, and word order were the DM foreign language students. Memorizing endings and plurals are hard work, and sometimes it does not seem worth the effort. However, the prospect of speaking fluently looms in the mind and makes the student work harder.

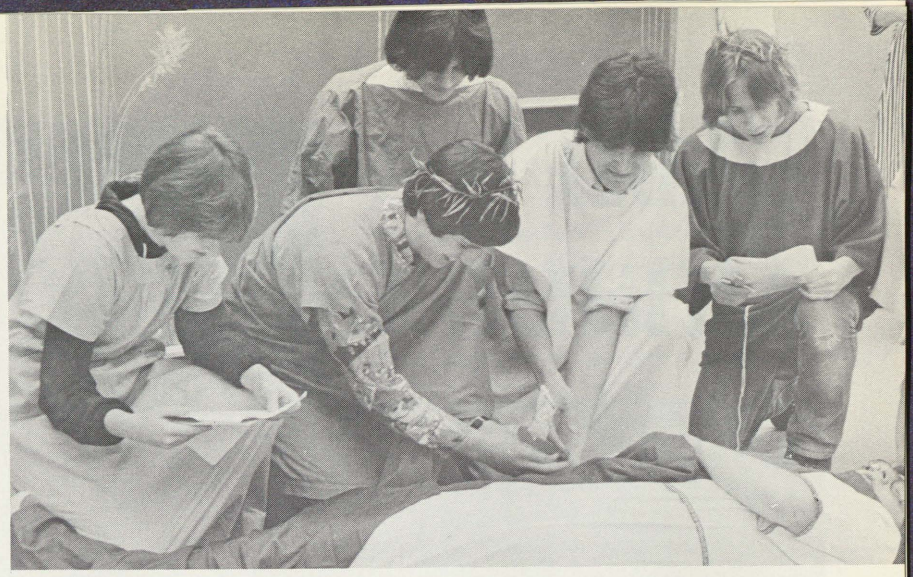
Mrs. Wellman, in her last year at MacArthur, taught four levels of Spanish in separate classes, and the aroma of spicy food filled the air on Spanish cooking days. Mr. Ruonavaara headed the French department, and during the Christmas season, kept the language area entertained with French Christmas carols. Mr. Meyer's Latin classes had their annual slave auction and banquet, and also put on a presentation of "Julius Caesar" in the spring. The German department had two teachers this year; Mr. Stahl taught German I and Mrs. Buller from Ike taught German II. The classes met together with Ike German classes to form a combined German Club.

"Herr" Stahl lists accusative prepositions.



Mr. Ruonavaara plans his next day's French lesson. (BELOW) Rich Martin and Breque Keith finish their last minute French assignment.

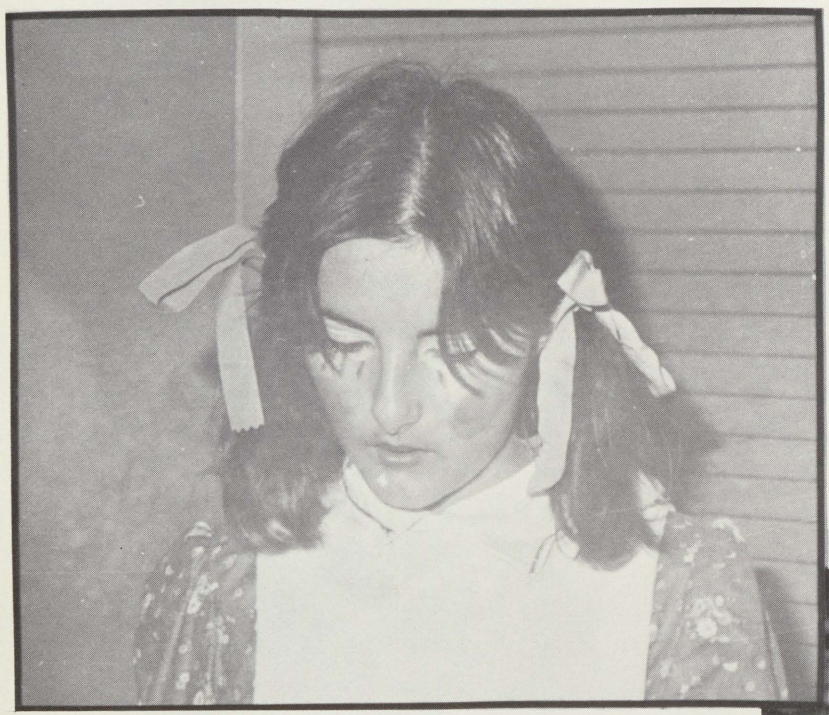




The conspirators wash their hands in blood' after the dramatic assassination of Julius Ceasar. (BELOW) Latin I Student, Cliff Todd, thinks that the Romanized Turkey is delicious.

'DO AS THE AMERICANS DO'

Sue Morris compares the New Zealand life style to that in America in her speech to fellow students at the Senior Honor Banquet.



Miriam Aquino from Brazil takes part in the National Honor Society Halloween party for grade school children.

Pilar Restrepo (Columbia) enjoys the spring weather.

German exchange, Rolf Schuettau, studies his Physics Book.

Anna Bazucki (Brazil), Pilar Restrepo (Colombia), and Ricardo Rosas (Mexico) relax in the main office.

"When in America, do as the Americans do." This was the thought behind New Zealand exchange student Sue Morris' speech given at the Senior Honor Banquet. Sue represented all eight exchange students, attending MacArthur, as she spoke of the challenge of tackling the new and different ways of American life.

Seven different countries were represented by students including Sweden, Germany, Mexico, Belgium, Columbia, New Zealand, and two students from Brazil. All were made honorary members of the DM National Honor Society.

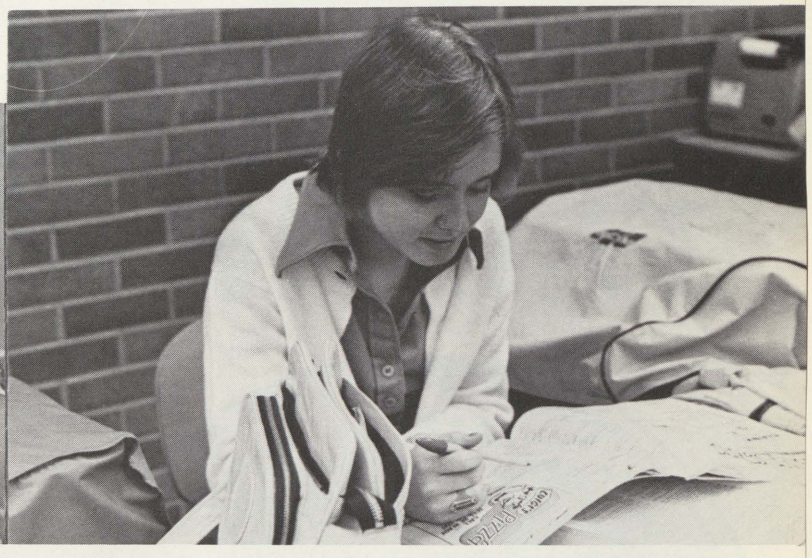
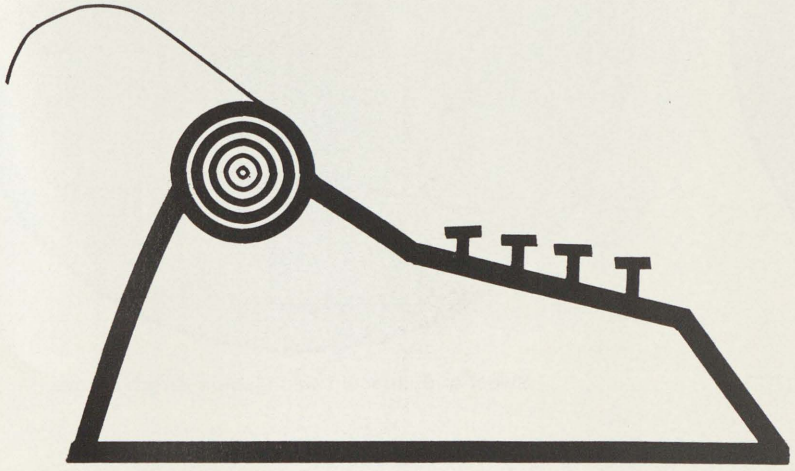
SYSTEMATIC

"Peck, peck, peck, DARN! peck, peck, peck" says Michelle Curry.



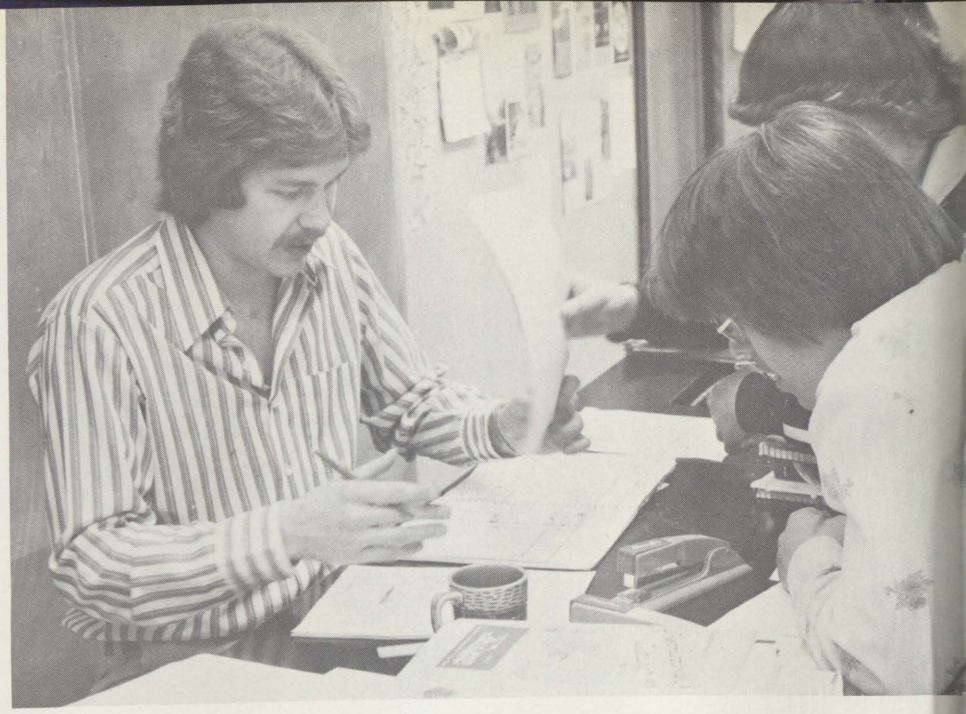
Sara Rattray checks the phone book for a business class assignment.



The electives building housed a large conglomerate of practical arts classes. Business courses, such as bookkeeping, retailing, accounting, shorthand and notehand and, of course, typing, were offered to business and secretarial students. Home economics courses made sewing, nutrition, family living and interior design courses available to future homemakers. Industrial Arts provided a means for those students with mechanical talents to develop their skills. Electronics, industrial processes, woodshop and auto mechanics were among the courses offered.

The DM science department offered many interesting activities this year. Chemistry students learned about gases and molecules while Physics students studied force and energy. Those in Biology II tried biological experiments with various animals such as doves, chickens and gerbils.

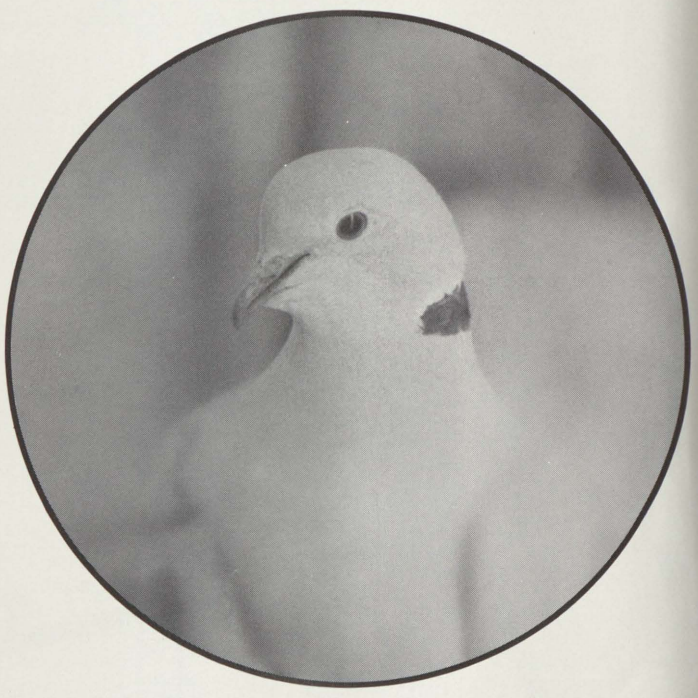
1977 also marked the final year of Mr. Harley Stoner as a science teacher at MacArthur. He is retiring after more than 30 years of teaching, thirteen of which were at DM. Mr. Stoner has always been one of MacArthur's most respected teachers.



Student teacher Mr. Anderegg, aside from Life Science duties, found time to coach the swimming team.

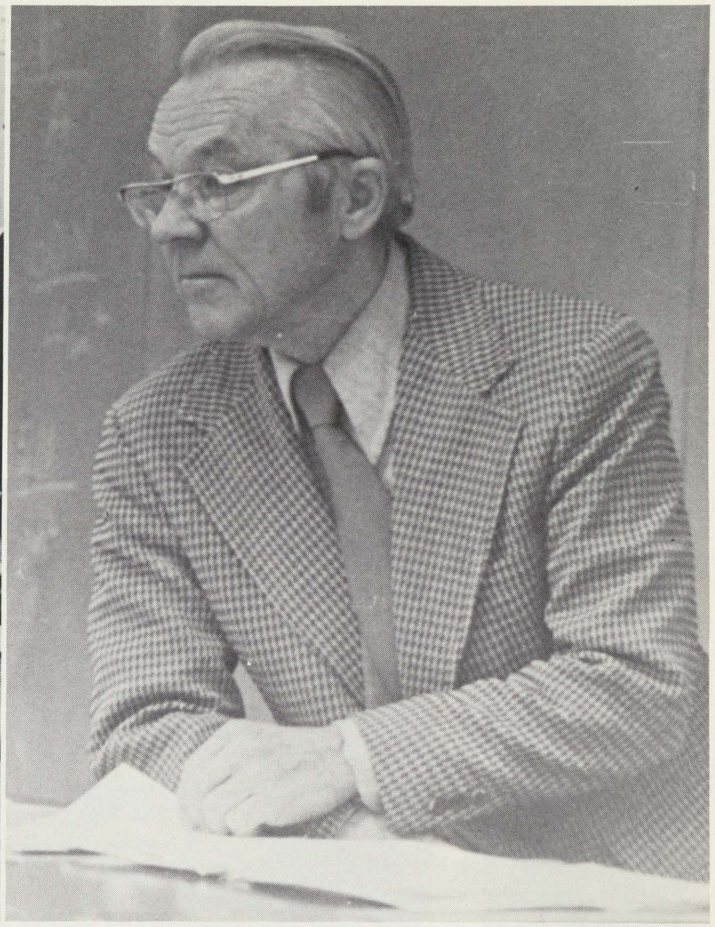
A Glance Through The Microscope--

One Bio-II project was the dissection of the fetal pig.



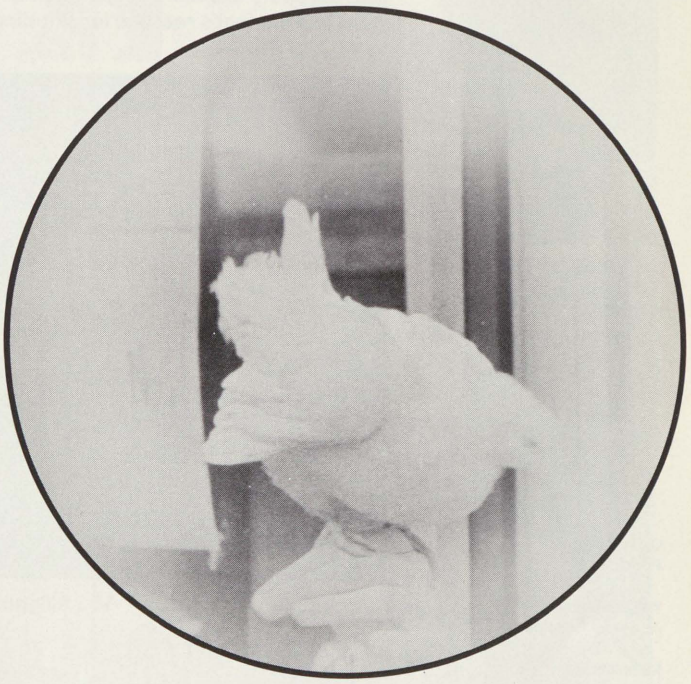
Sweet and innocent was Debbie Hirsch's dove.

Mrs. Schultz and lab assistant Jean Baudoux assemble molecular models.



Mr. Stoner, retiring Physics teacher, looks skeptical at one of his students' theories.

A dandelion; just another weed?

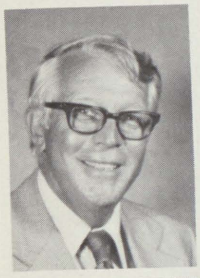


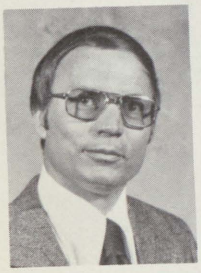
Which came first, the chicken or the egg?

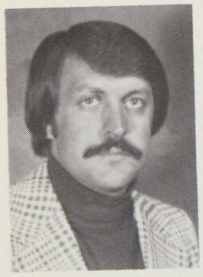
The life of an administrator is time consuming and complicated. Not only do they spend the normal school hours in their offices, they also must attend most of the extra curricular activities in which the DM students participate.

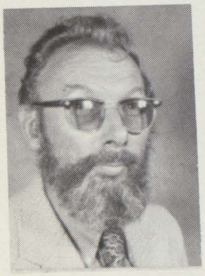
Because of the millage defeat for the year, they all had to teach classes. They also monitored the halls and the Kiva during busy lunch hours.

Mr. Huyghe speaks to the student body at the Homecoming as









Oscar Huyghe

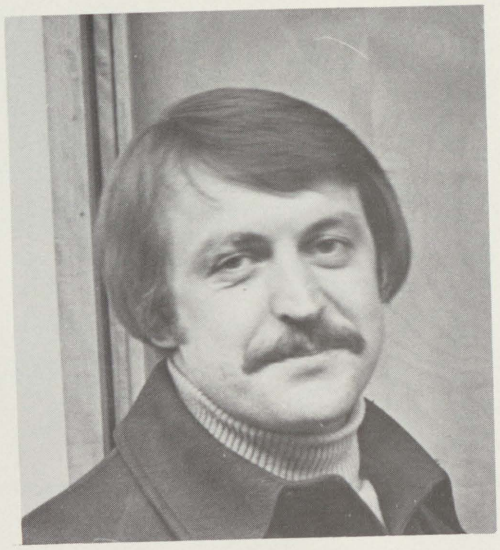
William Matson
Assistant Principal

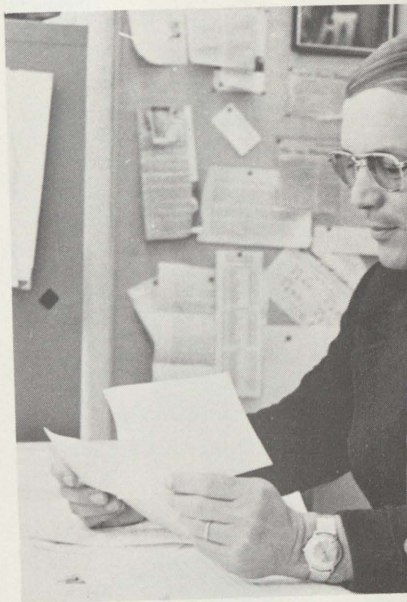
Manfred Stahl
Assistant Principal

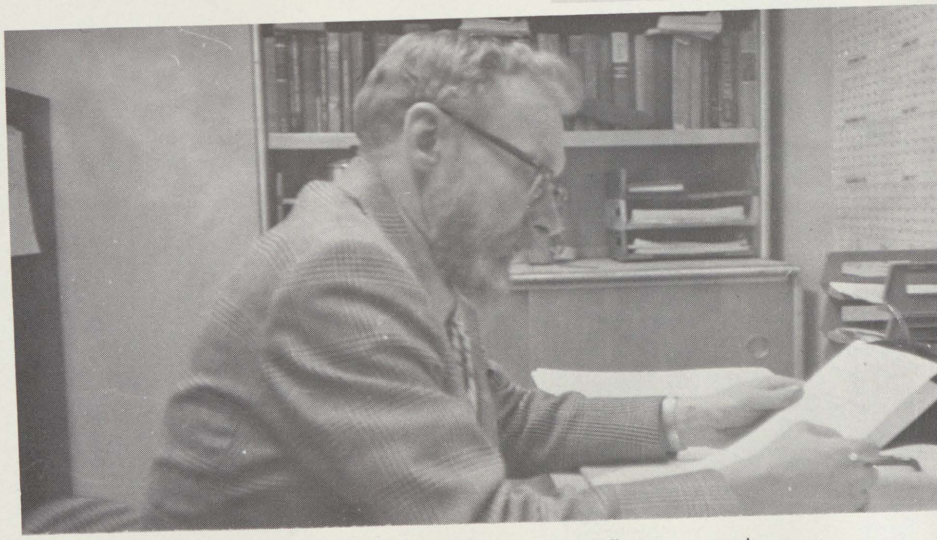
Edward Allington
Assistant Principal



"That's a likely excuse!" thinks Mr. Stahl as he listens to a student's reasons for skipping class.

Mr. Matson decides how to rearran schedule.





Mr. Allington looks over his daily paper work.

Mr. Fehn Retires

Mr. John Fehn, chief custodian at Douglas MacArthur for 11 years, retired on Sept. 24, and made a short speech during the Alma pep assembly. Mr. Fehn was greeted with cheers, applause, and calls for "Rocky". He received a carnation from the cheerleaders, and a standing ovation after his speech. During a special retirement party given in his honor, the Kitchen Staff served cake, ice cream, and beverages to the faculty and township administrators. Mr. Fehn was replaced by Mr. Winslow as head custodian.
